I. Introduction

A. General Policy
Pepperdine University is committed to protecting the privacy of individual health information in compliance with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) and the regulations promulgated there under. These policies and procedures apply to protected health information created, acquired, or maintained by the designated covered components of the University after April 14, 2003. The statements in this Manual represent the University's general operating policies and procedures. For further details regarding these policies and procedures see 45 C.F.R. Parts 160 and 164.

B. Scope
Pepperdine University is a hybrid entity as defined in 45 C.F.R. §164.103 and includes both covered and non-covered components. These policies and procedures apply only to the University's designated covered components, which include:

- Athletic Training Center;
- Boone Center for the Family;
- Disability Services Office;
- Human Resources, Benefits Department;
- Pepperdine Community Counseling Center;
- Pepperdine Jerry B.H. Union Rescue Clinic;
- Pepperdine Psychology and Education Clinic;
- Student Counseling; and
- Student Health Center.

Certain administrative and/or support offices may also be designated as covered components.

The designated covered components may not share protected health information with the non-covered components of the University, unless specifically permitted by the privacy regulations. It is the responsibility of each designated covered component to assure that their employees, students, volunteers, etc. comply with these policies and procedures. A designated covered component may develop and incorporate additional policies and procedures if doing so is necessary and appropriate to comply with more stringent state laws. However, a designated covered component may not delete sections of these policies and procedures without first consulting the Privacy Official or the Security Official.

1 HIPAA ensures a federal standard (a “floor”) of privacy protections. State privacy laws may be more stringent than the HIPAA privacy rule. In those cases, the more stringent state law will apply.
II. Definitions

Business Associate means a person or entity who, on behalf of a covered entity, performs or assists in performance of a function or activity involving the use or disclosure of individually identifiable health information, or any other function or activity regulated by the HIPAA Administrative Simplification Rules, including the Privacy Rule. Business Associates are also persons or entities performing legal, actuarial, accounting, consulting, data aggregation, management, administrative, accreditation, or financial services to or for a covered entity where performing those services involves disclosure of individually identifiable health information by the covered entity or another business associate of the covered entity to that person or entity. III. General Policies and Procedures

A. Authorization to Use or Disclose Protected Health Information

1. Policy
Pepperdine University will obtain an individual’s authorization to use or disclose protected health information in accordance with HIPAA and its regulations. Generally, designated covered components do not need to obtain an individual’s authorization when using and disclosing protected health information for routine purposes (e.g. treatment, payment, or health care operations), or for other limited purposes, as described in Pepperdine University’s Notice of Privacy Practices. Otherwise, designated covered components must obtain an individual’s valid authorization for the use or disclosure of protected health information.

2. Procedure
Authorization Form
- A Sample Authorization may be found on page 36 of this Manual.
- The authorization shall be written in plain language and shall contain the following information:
  - A description of the PHI to be used/disclosed that identifies the information in a specific and meaningful fashion;
  - A description of each purpose of the requested use or disclosure, for example, the statement “at the request of the individual” is a sufficient description of the purpose when an individual initiates the authorization and does not, or elects not to, provide a statement of the purpose;
  - The name of the person or organization authorized to disclose the PHI;
  - The name of the person or organization authorized to receive the PHI;
  - A statement that the individual has the right to revoke the authorization in writing;
  - A statement listing the exceptions to an individual’s right to revoke;
  - A statement that information used or disclosed pursuant to the authorization may be subject to re-disclosure by the recipient and no longer protected;
  - A statement that the individual may refuse to sign the authorization;
  - A statement that the covered component will not condition treatment, payment, enrollment or eligibility for benefits in a health plan, based on the individual providing authorization for the requested use or disclosure;
  - An expiration date (or expiration event); and
The signature of the individual and date (or the signature of an individual’s personal representative).

The University must provide the individual with a signed copy of the authorization.

Psychotherapy Notes

- The University will obtain an individual’s authorization to use or disclose psychotherapy notes, except in the circumstances listed below.
- The University does not need to obtain an individual’s authorization to use or disclose psychotherapy notes:
  - To carry out treatment, payment, or health care operations;
  - For use by the originator of the psychotherapy notes for treatment;
  - For use or disclosure by the designated covered component for its own training programs in which students, trainees, or practitioners in mental health learn under supervision to practice or improve their skills in counseling;
  - For use or disclosure by the covered entity to defend itself in a legal action or proceeding brought by the individual; and
  - For other limited uses and disclosures as described in 45 C.F.R. § 508(a)(2).

Revocation of Authorization

- An individual may revoke an authorization at any time, provided that the revocation is in writing.
- If the University has already taken action in reliance on the authorization, the University will stop providing the protected health information based on the revoked authorization with a reasonable period of time.

Documentation

- The University must document and retain any signed authorization under this section.

3. Applicable Regulations

45 C.F.R. §§ 164.508, 164.512.

B. Business Associates

1. Policy

From time to time, covered components may share protected health information with external parties, known as business associates. Protected health information generally may only be shared with business associates pursuant to a valid Business Associate Agreement. A Business Associate Agreement can be in the form of a written amendment to an existing agreement.
2. Procedure

Business Associate Agreement
- A Sample Business Associate Agreement is set forth on page 38 of this Manual.
- Generally, PHI may only be shared with business associates pursuant to a valid Business Associate Agreement.
- It is the responsibility of each designated covered component contracting with business associates to assure that valid Business Associates Agreements are executed.
- Business Associate Agreements must be in writing and must contain certain language that is HIPAA compliant.

3. Applicable Regulations
45 C.F.R. §§ 164.502(e), 164.504(e), 164.532, 160.402.

C. Complaint

1. Policy
An individual who believes his or her HIPAA privacy rights have been violated may file a complaint regarding the alleged privacy violation with the University’s Privacy Official of the appropriate Office of Civil Rights (OCR) Regional office. Complaints submitted to the University’s Privacy Official will be documented, reviewed, and acted upon, if necessary.

2. Procedure

Filing a Complaint
- A Sample Complaint Form is set forth on page 46 of this Manual.
- If an individual believes his or her privacy rights have been violated, an individual may file a complaint with the appropriate OCR Regional office, or with the University’s Privacy Official located in the office of the Chief Business Officer, Pepperdine University, 24255 Pacific Coast Highway, Malibu, CA 90263. Each designated covered component must develop and implement a process for receiving complaints and reporting them to the University’s Privacy Official (this process can be as simple as instructing individuals who wish to file a complaint to contact the University’s Privacy Official).
- Individuals must file complaints in writing, either paper or electronically.
- A complaint must be filed 180 days from when the individual knew or should have known of the circumstance that led to the complaint, unless this time limit is waived for “good cause” shown.
- A complaint must name the entity that is the subject of the complaint and describe the acts or omission believed to be in violation of the HIPAA requirements.
- OCR may prescribe additional procedures for the filing of complaints, as well as the place and manner of filing, by notice in the Federal Register.
Individuals may not be penalized for filing a complaint.

Investigation, Sanctions

- The Privacy Official will investigate alleged complaints to determine if a breach of privacy has occurred.
- If the Privacy Official determines that a violation occurred, the Privacy Official will apply appropriate sanctions against the person or entity who failed to comply with the privacy policies and procedures and instruct the person or entity to take the corrective actions, if necessary. The Privacy Official will document any sanctions imposed.

3. Applicable Regulations

D. De-Identification of Protected Health Information

1. Policy
The University may use or disclose de-identified PHI without obtaining an individual's authorization. PHI shall be considered de-identified if either of the two de-identification procedures set forth below are followed.

2. Procedure
   Removal of Identifiers
   - De-identified PHI is rendered anonymous when identifying characteristics are completely removed and when the University does not have any actual knowledge that the information could be used alone or in combination with other information to identify and individual.
   - De-identification requires the elimination not only of primary or obvious identifiers, such as the individual’s name, address, and date of birth, but also of secondary identifiers through which a user could deduce the individual’s identity.
   - For information to be de-identified the following identifiers must be removed:
     - Names;
     - All address information except for the state;
     - Names of relatives and employers;
     - All elements of dates (except year), including date of birth, admission date, discharge date, date of death; and all ages over 89 and all elements of dates including year indicative of such age except that such ages and elements may be aggregated into a single category of age 90 or older;
     - Telephone numbers;
     - Fax numbers;
     - E-mail addresses;
     - Social security numbers;
- Medical record numbers;
- Health plan beneficiary numbers;
- Account numbers;
- Certificate/license numbers;
- Vehicle identifiers, including license plate numbers;
- Device ID's and serial numbers;
- Web Universal Resource Locators (URL);
- Internet Protocol (IP) addresses;
- Biometric identifiers;
- Full face photographic images and other comparable images;
- Any other unique identifying number characteristics (except as otherwise permitted for re-identification purposes).

Statistical Method

- PHI is considered de-identified if a person with appropriate knowledge of and experience with generally accepted statistical and scientific principles and methods for rendering information not individually identifiable: (a) determines that the risk is very small that the information could be used, alone or in combination with other reasonably available information, by an anticipated recipient to identify an individual who is a subject of the information; and (b) documents the methods and results of the analysis to justify such determination.

Re-identification

- A covered component may assign a code or other means of record identification to allow information de-identified under this section to be re-identified by the covered component, provided that (a) the code or other means of record identification is not derived from or related to information about the individual and (b) the covered component does not use or disclose the code or other means of record identification for any other purpose, and does not disclose the mechanism for re-identification.

3. Applicable Regulations

45 C.F.R. §§ 164.502(d), 164.514(a) and (b)

E. Limited Data Sheets

1. Policy

Covered components may use and disclose a limited data set without an individual’s authorization for the purposes of research, public health, or health care operations if the covered component enters into a Data Use Agreement with the intended recipient of the limited data set. A designated covered component may use protected health information to create a limited data set, or to disclose protected health information to a Business Associate to create a limited data set on behalf of the covered component.
2. Procedure

Limited Data Set

- A limited data set is PHI that excludes the following direct identifiers of the individual or relatives, employers, or household members of the individual:
  - Names;
  - Postal address information, other than town, city, state, and zip codes;
  - Telephone numbers;
  - Fax numbers;
  - Electronic mail addresses;
  - Social security numbers;
  - Medical record numbers;
  - Health plan beneficiary numbers;
  - Account numbers;
  - Certificate/license numbers;
  - Vehicle identifiers and serial numbers (including license plate number);
  - Web Universal Resource Locators (URLs);
  - Internet Protocol (IP) address numbers;
  - Biometric identifiers, including finger and voiceprints; and
  - Full face photographs and comparable images.

Data Use Agreements. Data use agreements must:

- Establish the permitted uses and disclosures of the limited data set;
- Establish who is permitted to use or receive the limited data set; and
- Provide that the recipient of the information will:
  - Not use or further disclose the information other than as permitted by the agreement;
  - Use appropriate safeguards to prevent use or disclosure other than as permitted by the agreement;
  - Report to the University any uses or disclosures that recipient is aware of that is not provided for by the agreement;
  - Ensure that the recipient’s agents who have access to the information agree to the same restrictions as imposed on the recipient; and
  - Not identify the information or contact the individuals.

3. Applicable Regulations

45 C.F.R. § 164.514(e).
F. Minimum Necessary Use and Disclosure of Protected Health Information

1. Policy
When using or disclosing PHI or when requesting PHI from another entity covered by the HIPAA privacy regulations, the University shall make a reasonable effort to limit itself to the minimum amount of protected health information necessary to accomplish the intended purpose of the use, disclosure or request. The University is not required to apply the minimum necessary standard under the following circumstances:

- For Treatment. Disclosure to or requests by a health care provider for purposes of diagnosing or treating an individual.
- To the Individual. Uses or disclosures made to the individual.
- Pursuant to Patient's Authorization. Uses or disclosures pursuant to a valid authorization.
- To the HHS. Disclosures to the Office for Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for HIPAA compliance purposes.
- Required by Law. Uses or disclosures that are required by law (i.e., a mandate that is contained in law that compels the University to use or disclose protected health information and that is enforceable in a court of law, e.g., court orders, court-ordered subpoenas, civil or authorized investigative demands).

2. Procedure
The University recognizes that each designated covered component that uses or discloses protected health information has a unique organizational structure and that employees of the unit may perform various functions for the unit that require different levels of access to protected health information. Further, the responsibilities designated to these functions vary across each designated covered component at the University and cannot be determined solely based on job title or description. For these reasons it is the responsibility of each designated covered component that uses and discloses protected health information to determine those persons or classes of persons, as appropriate, in its workforce who need access to protected health information to carry out their duties; and for each such person or class of persons, the category or categories of protected health information to which access is needed and any conditions appropriate to such access.

For any type of disclosure that it makes on a routine and recurring basis, a covered component must implement policies and procedures (which may be standard protocols) that limit the protected health information disclosed to the amount reasonably necessary to achieve the purpose of the disclosure. For all other disclosures, the covered component must develop criteria designed to limit the protected health information disclosed to the information reasonably necessary to accomplish the purpose for which disclosure is sought and review requests for disclosure on an individual basis in accordance with such criteria.

3. Applicable Regulations
45 C.F.R. §§ 164.502, and 164.514(d).

G. Notice of Privacy Practices

1. Policy
Pepperdine University is committed to maintaining and protecting the confidentiality of the individual’s PHI. This Notice of Privacy Practices applies to Pepperdine University (Athletics, Boone Center for the Family, Counseling Center, Disability Services Office, Graduate School of Education and Psychology (PRYDE, Union Rescue Mission, Clinics), Human Resources, and Student Health Center) (“Departments”). Pepperdine University is required by federal and state law, including the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (“HIPAA”), to protect the individual’s PHI and other personal information. Pepperdine is required to provide the individual with this Notice of Privacy Practices about the University’s policies, safeguards, and practices. When Pepperdine University uses or discloses an individual’s PHI, Pepperdine University is bound by the terms of this Notice of Privacy Practices, or the revised Notice of Privacy Practices, if applicable.

The University’s Obligations:
Pepperdine is required by law to:

- Maintain the privacy of PHI (with certain exceptions)
- Give the individual this notice of the University’s legal duties and privacy practices regarding health information about the individual
- Follow the terms of the University’s Notice of Privacy Practice that is currently in effect

2. Procedure
How the University may use and disclose PHI:
The following describes the ways the University may use and disclose PHI. Except for the purposes described below, the University will use and disclose PHI only with the individual’s written permission. The individual may revoke such permission at any time by writing to Pepperdine University’s Compliance Officer.

- For Treatment. The University may use and disclose PHI for the individual’s treatment and to provide the individual with treatment-related health care services. For example, the University may disclose PHI to doctors, nurses, technicians, or other personnel, including people outside the University’s office, who are involved in the individual’s medical care and need the information to provide the individual with medical care.
- For Payment. The University may use and disclose PHI so that the University or others may bill and receive payment from the individual, an insurance company or a third party for the treatment and services the individual received. For example, the University may tell the individual's insurance company about a treatment the individual is going to receive to determine whether the individual's insurance company will cover the treatment.

- For Health Care Operations. The University may use and disclose PHI for health care operations purposes. These uses and disclosures are necessary to make sure that all of the University's patients receive quality care and to operate and manage the University's office. For example, the University may share information with doctors, residents, nurses, technicians, clerks, and other personnel for quality assurance and educational purposes. The University also may share information with other entities that have a relationship with the individual (for example, the individual's insurance company and anyone other than the individual who pays for the individual's services) for the individual's health care operation activities.

- Appointment Reminders, Treatment Alternatives, and Health Related Benefits and Services. The University may use and disclose PHI to contact the individual to remind them that they have an appointment with the University. The University also may use and disclose PHI to tell the individual about treatment alternatives or health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to the individual.

- Third Parties Involved in an Individual’s Care or Payment for an Individual’s Care. When appropriate, the University may share PHI with a person who is involved in the individual’s medical care or payment for the individual’s care, such as the individual’s family or a close friend. The University also may notify the individual’s family about the individual’s location or general condition or disclose such information to an entity (such as the Red Cross) assisting in a disaster relief effort.

- Research. Under certain circumstances, the University may use and disclose PHI for research. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health of patients who received one treatment to those who received another, for the same condition. The University will generally ask for the individual’s written authorization before using the individual’s PHI or sharing it with others to conduct research. Under limited circumstances, the University may use and disclose PHI for research purposes without the individual’s permission. Before the University uses or discloses PHI for research without the individual’s permission, the project will go through a special approval process to ensure that research conducted poses minimal risk to the individual’s privacy. The individual’s information will be de-identified. Researchers may contact the individual to see if the individual is interested in or eligible to participate in a study.

SPECIAL SITUATIONS:

- As Required by Law. The University will disclose PHI when required to do so by international, federal, state or local law.

- To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. The University may use and disclose PHI when necessary to prevent a serious threat to the individual’s health and safety or the health and safety of others. Disclosures, however, will be made only to someone who may be able to help prevent or respond to the threat, such as law enforcement or a potential victim. For example, the University may need to disclose information to law enforcement when a patient reveals participation in a violent crime.

- Business Associates. The University may disclose PHI to the University’s business associates that perform functions on the University’s behalf or provide the University with services if the information is necessary for such functions or services. For example, the University may use another company to perform billing services on the University’s behalf. All of the University’s business associates are obligated to protect the privacy of the individual’s information and are not allowed to use or disclose any information other than as specified in our contract.

- Organ and Tissue Donation. If the individual is an organ donor, the University may use or release PHI to organizations that handle organ procurement or other entities engaged in procurement, banking or transportation or organs, eyes or tissues to facilitate organ, eye or tissue donation and transplantation.

- Military and Veterans. If the individual is a member of the armed forces, the University may release PHI as required by military command authorities. The University also may release PHI to the appropriate foreign military authority if the individual is a member of a foreign military.

- Workers’ Compensation. The University may release PHI for workers’ compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

- Public Health Risks. The University may disclose PHI for public health risks or certain occurrences. These risks and occurrences generally include disclosures to prevent or control disease, injury or disability; report births and deaths; report child, elder or dependent adult abuse or neglect; report reactions to medications or problems with products; notify people of recalls of products they may be using; a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition; and the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect, or domestic violence (we will only make this disclosure when required or authorized by law).

- Health Oversight Activities. The University may disclose PHI to a health oversight agency, such as the California Department of Health and Human Services or Center for Medicare and Medical Services, for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include, for example, audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

- Data Breach Notification Purposes. The University may use or disclose the individual’s PHI to provide legally required notices of unauthorized access to or disclosure of PHI.

- Lawsuits and Disputes. If the individual is involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, the University may disclose PHI in response to a court or administrative order. The University also may disclose PHI in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful request by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell the individual about the request or to allow the individual to obtain an order protecting the information requested.

- Law Enforcement. The University may release PHI if asked by a law enforcement official if the information is: (1) in response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process; (2) limited information to identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person; (3) about the victim of a crime even if, under certain very limited circumstances, the University is unable to obtain the individual’s agreement; (4) about a death the University believes may be the result of criminal conduct; (5) about criminal conduct on the University’s premises; and (6) in an emergency to report a crime, the location of the crime or victims, or the identity, description or location of the person who committed the crime.

- Coroners, Medical Examiners and Funeral Directors. The University may release PHI to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death. The University also may release PHI to funeral directors as necessary for their duties.

- National Security and Intelligence Activities. The University may release PHI to authorized federal officials for intelligence, counter-intelligence, and other national security activities authorized by law.

- Protective Services for the President and Others. The University may disclose PHI to authorized federal officials so they may provide protection to the President, other authorized persons or foreign heads of state, or to conduct special investigations.

- Inmates or Individuals in Custody. If the individual is an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, the University may release PHI to the correctional institution or law enforcement official. This release would be necessary if: (1) for the institution to provide the individual with health care; (2) to protect the individual’s health and safety or the health and safety of others; or (3) the safety and security of the correctional institution.

USES AND DISCLOSURES THAT REQUIRE THE UNIVERSITY TO GIVE THE INDIVIDUAL AN OPPORTUNITY TO OBJECT/OPT OUT:

- Third Parties Involved in the Individual’s Care or Payment for Individual’s Care. Unless the individual objects, the University may disclose to a member of the individual’s family, a relative, a close friend or any other person the individual identifies, the individual’s PHI that directly relates to that third party’s involvement in the individual’s health care. If the individual is unable to agree or object to such a disclosure, the University may disclose such information as necessary if the University determines that it is in the individual’s best interest based on the University’s professional judgment.
Disaster Relief. The University may disclose the individual’s PHI to disaster relief organizations that seek the individual’s PHI to coordinate the individual’s care, or notify family and friends of the individual’s location or condition in a disaster. The University will provide the individual with an opportunity to agree or object to such a disclosure whenever the University practically can do so.

Fundraising. The University may notify the individual about fundraising events that support Pepperdine University.

INDIVIDUAL’S WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION IS REQUIRED FOR OTHER USES AND DISCLOSURES:
The following uses and disclosures of the individual’s PHI will be made only with the individual’s written authorization:
1. Uses and disclosures of PHI for marketing purposes;
2. Disclosures that constitute a sale of the individual’s PHI; and
3. Disclosures of psychotherapy notes.

Other uses and disclosures of PHI not covered by this Notice of Privacy Practice or the laws that apply to the University will be made only with the individual’s written authorization. If the individual gives us authorization, the individual may revoke it at any time by submitting a written revocation to Pepperdine University Compliance Officer and we will no longer disclose PHI under the authorization. But disclosure that the University made in reliance on an individual’s authorization before the individual revoked it will not be affected by the revocation.

INDIVIDUAL’S RIGHTS REGARDING PHI:

Right to Inspect and Copy. The individual has a right to inspect and copy PHI that may be used to make decisions about the individual’s care or payment for the individual’s care. This includes medical and billing records, other than psychotherapy notes. To inspect and copy the individual’s PHI, the individual must make their request, in writing, to the Department in which their care was provided. The University has up to 30 days to make the individual PHI available to the individual and the University may charge the individual a reasonable fee for the costs of copying, mailing or other supplies associated with the individual’s request. The University may not charge the individual a fee if the individual needs the information for a claim for benefits under the Social Security Act or any other state or federal needs-based benefit program. The University may deny the individual’s request in certain limited circumstances. If the University does deny the individual’s request, the individual has the right to have the denial reviewed by a licensed healthcare professional that was not directly involved in the denial of the individual’s request, and the University will comply with the outcome of the review.

Right to Get Notice of a Breach. Pepperdine University is committed to safeguarding the individual’s PHI. If a breach of the individual’s PHI occurs, the University will notify the individual in accordance with state and federal law.

- Right to Amend, Correct or Add an Addendum. If the individual feels that the PHI the University has is incorrect, incomplete, or the individual wishes to add an addendum to the individual’s records, the individual has the right to make such request for as long as the information is kept by or for the University’s office. The individual must make their request in writing to the Department in which their care was provided. In the case of claims that the information is incorrect, incomplete, or if the record was not created by Pepperdine University, the University may deny the individual’s request. However, if the University denies any part of the individual’s request, the University will provide the individual with a written explanation of the reasons for doing so within 60 days of the individual's request.

- Right to an Accounting of Disclosures. Individuals have the right to request a list of certain disclosures the University made of PHI for purposes other than treatment, payment, health care operations, certain other purposes consistent with law, or for which the individual provided written authorization. To request an accounting of disclosure, individuals must make their request, in writing, to the Department in which the individual’s care was provided. The individual may request an accounting of disclosures for up to the previous six years of services provided before the date of the individual’s request. If more than one request is made during a 12 month period, Pepperdine University may charge a cost based fee.

- Right to Request Restrictions. Individuals have the right to request a restriction or limitation on the PHI Pepperdine University uses or disclose for treatment, payment, or health care operations. Individuals also have the right to request a limit on the PHI we disclose to someone involved in the individual’s care or the payment for the individual’s care, like a family member or friend. For example, the individual could ask that the University not share information about a particular diagnosis or treatment with the individual’s spouse. To request a restriction, the individual must make their request, in writing, to the Department in which their care was provided. The University is not required to agree to the individual’s request unless the individual is asking us to restrict the use and disclosure of the individual’s PHI to a health plan for payment or health care operation purposes and such information the individual wishes to restrict pertains solely to a health care item or service for which the individual has paid the University out-of-pocket in full. If the University agrees, the University will comply with the individual’s request unless the information is needed to provide the individual with emergency treatment or to comply with law. If the University does not agree, the University will provide an explanation in writing.

- Out-of-Pocket-Payments. If the individual pays out-of-pocket (or in other words, the individual has requested that the University not bill the individual’s health plan) in full for a specific item or service, the individual has the right to ask that the individual’s PHI with respect to that item or service not be disclosed to a health plan for purposes of payment or health care operations, and the University will honor that request.

- Right to Request Confidential Communications. Individuals have the right to request that the University communicate with them about medical matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, the individual can ask that the University only contact individuals by mail or at work. To request confidential communications, individuals must make their request, in writing, to the Department in which their care was provided. The individual’s request must specify how or where the individual wishes to be contacted. The University will accommodate reasonable requests.

- Right to Choose Someone to Act for the Individual. If the individual gives someone medical power of attorney or if someone is the individual’s legal guardian, that person can exercise the individual’s rights and make choices about the individual’s PHI. The University will use our best efforts to verify that person has authority to act for the individual before the University takes any action.

- Right to a Paper Copy of This Notice of Privacy Practices. Individuals have the right to a paper copy of this Notice of Privacy Practices. Individuals may ask the University to give the individual a copy of this Notice of Privacy Practices at any time. Even if the individual has agreed to receive this Notice of Privacy Practices electronically, individuals are still entitled to a paper copy of this Notice of Privacy Practices. Individuals may obtain a copy of this Notice of Privacy Practices on our web site at, http://www.pepperdine.edu/provost/content/policies/hipaa_manual_5_2012.pdf. To obtain a paper copy of this Notice of Privacy Practices, contact the Department in which the individual’s care was provided.

CHANGES TO THIS NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES:

- Pepperdine University reserves the right to change this Notice of Privacy Practices and make the new Notice of Privacy Practices apply to PHI the University already has as well as any information the University receives in the future. The University will post a copy of the University’s current Notice of Privacy Practice at our office. The Notice of Privacy Practices will contain the effective date on the first page, in the top right-hand corner. Individuals will be sent information regarding the changes via e-mail or via mail on how they can obtain a new copy. Individuals will be asked to sign off on the new Notice of Privacy Practices at the individual’s next scheduled appointment.

COMPLAINTS:

- If an individual believes their privacy rights have been violated, the individual may file a complaint with Kim Miller, HIPAA Compliance Officer, 24255 Pacific Coast Highway, Malibu, CA 90263, 310.506.4208. All complaints must be made in writing. J. Research

1. Policy
HIPAA establishes privacy protections from human subjects research and establishes the conditions under which protected health information may be used or disclosed by Pepperdine University for research purposes. This policy and procedure should be followed in addition to any applicable federal or state regulations governing the protection of human subjects research, as well as any applicable Institutional Review Board ("IRB") policies and procedures.

2. Procedure
Research
➢ Pepperdine University may use or disclose protected health information for research, regardless of the source of the funding of the research, in the following circumstances:

  o Individual Authorization. The individual has signed a valid authorization;

  o Board Approval of Waiver. The IRB has approved a proper waiver of the need to obtain the individuals authorization;

  o Limited Data Set. The health information is used or disclosed in a limited data set in accordance with a valid Data Use Agreement;

  o De-identification. The health information has been de-identified;

  o Preparatory to Research. PHI may be used or disclosed to a researcher as necessary to prepare a research protocol or for similar purposes preparatory to research if the University obtains the following representations from the researcher: (a) the use or disclosure is sought solely to review PHI as necessary to prepare a research protocol or for similar purposes preparatory to research:
(b) no PHI will be removed from the University by the researcher in the course of the review; and (c) the PHI for which use or access is sought is necessary for the research purposes;

- Decedent's Research. PHI may be used or disclosed to a researcher for research on decedents if the University obtains the following from the researcher: (a) a representation that the use or disclosure sought is solely for research on the PHI of decedents; (b) documentation of the death of such individual(s) and/or research subject(s); (c) a representation that the PHI for which use or disclosure is sought is necessary for research purposes.

If the University is also the researcher, the University must still obtain the proper authorization or fit within one of the other exceptions before using PHI for research purposes.

Research Pursuant to an Authorization

- Research authorizations must contain the same core elements as other authorizations (Authorization to Use or Disclose Protected Health Information on pages 9 and 10), except for the following differences:
  - The University may condition the provision of research-related treatment on a provision of authorization for the use or disclosure of protected health information for such research;
  - An authorization for use and disclosure of protected health information for a research study may be combined with any other type of written permission for the same research study, including another authorization for the use or disclosure of protected health information for such research or consent to participate in such research;
  - A research authorization does not need to contain an expiration date or event as is required for other authorizations (the language “end of the research study” or “none” or similar language is sufficient).

Revocation

- A research authorization may be revoked by an individual.
- If an authorization is revoked, the University may continue its use or disclosure of the PHI already obtained pursuant to the valid authorization to the extent necessary to preserve the integrity of the research study.

IRB Waiver Approval

- For a use or disclosure to be permitted upon IRB approval, the IRB must document that all of the following criteria have been met:
  - The use or disclosure of PHI involves no more than a minimal risk to the privacy of individuals, based on the presence of the following elements: (i) an adequate plan to protect the identifiers from improper use and disclosure; (ii) an adequate plan to destroy the identifiers at the earliest opportunity consistent with the conduct of research, unless there is a health or research justification for retaining the identifiers or such retention is otherwise required by law; and (iii) adequate written assurances that the protected health information will not be reused or disclosed to any other person or entity, except as required by law, for authorized oversight of the research study, or for other research for which the use or disclosure of protected health information would be permitted under this policy;

- The research could not be conducted without the waiver or alteration; and
- The research could not be conducted without access to and use of the protected health information.

- The documentation should include a statement identifying the IRB and the date on which the alteration or waiver of authorization was approved.
- The documentation should include a brief description of the PHI for which use or access has been determined to be necessary by the IRB.
- The documentation should include a statement that the alteration or waiver of authorization has been reviewed.
- The Chair of the IRB or other member designated by the Chair must sign the document.

K. Right to Request Access to Protected Health Information

1. Policy
Individuals have the right to request access to inspect or copy their protected health information that is maintained in a designated record set. The University will address an individual’s request to inspect or copy his or her protected health information in a timely and professional manner. Individuals do not have the right to access certain types of information (set forth below), and in those situations, the University may deny an individual’s request to access. In certain circumstances, an individual may have the right to have a denial reviewed. The University will adhere to the procedures set forth below when addressing, denying, or reviewing an individual’s request to access.

2. Procedure
Requests for Access

- A Sample Request for Access Form is set forth on page 47 of this Manual.
- Each covered component must designate the title of the person(s) or office responsible for receiving and processing requests for access by individuals.
- Individuals must be instructed to direct their request for access to the designated person responsible for receiving such requests.
Individuals may be instructed to make their request for access in writing.

The person responsible for processing the request may discuss the scope, format, and other aspects of the request for access with the individual as necessary to facilitate a timely provision of access.

The parties can agree in advance that a summary of the requested protected health information will be provided in lieu of access to the information.

Upon receipt of a proper request, the covered component will act on the request by either: (1) informing the individual of acceptance and providing the access requested; or (2) providing the individual with a written denial in accordance with the procedure set forth.

If the covered component does not maintain the requested protected health information, but it knows where the requested information is maintained, the covered component will inform the individual where to direct the request for access.

An individual’s request for access must be acted upon no later than 30 days after the request is made; or, if the request is for protected health information that is not maintained or accessible on-site, no later than 60 days after the request.

Providing Access

- If a request for access is granted, the individual will be given access to the protected health information in a secure and confidential manner.
- The covered component will provide the individual with access to the protected health information in the form or format requested by the individual, if it is readily producible in such form or format. If it is not readily producible in such format, the covered component will provide the access in such other form as agreed to by the individual.
- In instances where the protected health information is in more than one record set, or at more than one location, the covered component will only produce the protected health information once in response to the request for access.

Denial of Access

- A Sample Denial of Access Form is set forth on page 45 of this Manual.
- A written denial of access may be issued in the following circumstances:
  - Psychotherapy Notes. An individual does not have the right to access psychotherapy notes relating to him or herself except (a) to the extent the patient’s treating professional approves to such access in writing; or (b) the patient obtains a court order authorizing such access.
  - Legal Information. An individual does not have the right to access information compiled in reasonable anticipation of, or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding.
  - Endangerment. An individual does not have the right to access information in the event that a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is reasonably likely to endanger the life or physical safety of the individual or another person.

- Obtained from Someone Else. An individual does not have the right to access information if the protected health information was obtained from someone other than a health care provider under a promise of confidentiality and the access requested would be reasonably likely to reveal the source of the information.

- Reference to Other People. An individual does not have the right to access information if the protected health information makes reference to another person and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that access requested is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to such other person.

- Personal Representative. An individual does not have the right to access information if the request for access is made by the individual’s personal representative and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the provision of access to such personal representative is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to the individual or another person.

- Research. The University may temporarily suspend an individual’s access to protected health information created or obtained in the course of research that includes treatment. The suspension may last for as long as the research is in progress, provided that the individual agreed to the denial of access when consenting to participate in the research, and the individual has been informed that the right of access will be reinstated upon completion of the research.

- Other Limited Circumstances. There are other limited circumstances when an individual does not have the right to access protected health information, listed in 45 C.F.R. § 164.524.

  - When denying an individual access to protected health information, the denial will be written in plain language and
    - Contain the basis for the denial;
    - If applicable, contain a statement of the individual’s review rights, including a description of how the individual may exercise such rights; and
    - Contain a description of how the individual may complain to the University pursuant to the University’s complaint process (and include the title and telephone number of the contact person), or to the appropriate OCR Regional office.

  - The University must, to the extent possible, grant the individual access to any other protected health information requested after excluding the protected health information that was denied.
Reviewing a Denial of Access

- If access is denied based on (1) Endangerment; (2) Reference to Other People; or (3) Personal Representative (these exceptions are all set forth above), the individual must be given the opportunity to have the denial reviewed.
- If an individual has requested a review of denial, the University must designate a licensed health care professional, who was not directly involved in the denial, to review the decision to deny access.
- The reviewing official must determine whether or not to confirm the denial based on the standards set forth in 45 C.F.R. 164.524(a)(3). The reviewing official must review the denial of access within a reasonable period of time and then must promptly notify the individual of the decision and take any necessary action to carry out the reviewing officials decision.

Costs and Fees

- The University may impose a reasonable, cost-based fee for copying costs and postage in response to a request for access.
- If the individual agrees in advance, the University may impose a reasonable cost-based fee for preparing a summary of the protected health information.

Documentation

- The University must document and retain:
  - The designated record sets that are subject to access by individuals; and
  - The titles of the persons or offices responsible for receiving and processing requests for access by individuals.

3. Applicable Regulation
45 C.F.R. § 164.524.

- Disclosures made to carry out treatment, payment, or health care operations;
- Disclosures made to the individual;
- Disclosures made pursuant to an individual’s authorization;
Disclosures for a facility directory;

Other limited disclosures as set forth in 45 C.F.R. § 164.528.

2. Procedure
Request for Accounting
Individuals will be permitted to request and receive an accounting of disclosures of their protected health information.
Designated covered components may require requests for an accounting to be submitted in writing.
A Sample Request for Accounting of Disclosures Form is set forth on page 35 of this Manual.

Accounting Requirements
A Sample Accounting for Disclosures Form is set forth on page 48 of this Manual.
An individual must receive a written accounting of disclosures and the written accounting must include:
- The date of disclosure;
- The name of the entity or person who received the protected health information, if known, the address of such entity or person;
- A brief description of the protected health information disclosed; and

M. Right to Request an Amendment to Protected Health Information

1. Policy

Individuals have the right to request an amendment or correction to their protected health information. The University will permit an individual to request an amendment to his or her protected health information in their designated record set for as long as the information is maintained in the designated record set. An individual can request an amendment to his or her protected health information that was not created by the University, but the individual must provide the University with a reasonable basis to believe that the originator of the information is no longer available to act on the request. The University has the right to deny the request to amend in certain circumstances.

2. Procedure

Requests for an Amendment

- A Sample Request for an Amendment Form is set forth on page 49 of this Manual.
- Each covered component of the University must designate the title of the person(s) or office responsible for receiving and processing requests for an amendment by individuals.
- Individuals must be instructed to direct their requests for an amendment to the designated person responsible for receiving such request.
A covered component may instruct individuals to make their requests in writing and may require the individual to provide a reason to support the requested amendment, as long as the designated covered component informs the individual in advance of such requirements.

The University must act upon an individual’s request for amendment no later than 60 days after receipt of the request. If the covered entity is unable to act on the amendment within this time period, the University may extend the time for such action by no more than 30 days, provided that: (1) the University provides the individual with a written statement of the reasons for the delay and the date by which the University will complete its action on the request; and (2) the University may have only one such extension of time for action on a request for an amendment.

Accepting a Request to Amend

- If the requested amendment is accepted, in whole or in part, the covered component shall inform the individual of the acceptance and make the appropriate amendment.
- At a minimum, the covered component shall amend the information by identifying the affected information in the designated record set and appending or otherwise providing a link to the location of the amendment.
- The covered component and the individual should identify the relevant persons or entities, including business associates, who need to be informed about the amendment.

Denying a Request to Amend

- A Sample Denial of Request for an Amendment Form is set forth on page 44 of this Manual.
- An individual’s request for an amendment may be denied if the covered component determines that the protected health information or record that is the subject of the request:

  - Is not part of the individual’s designated record set;
  - Is not available for inspection by the individual pursuant to the Access to Right to Request Access to PHI policy, set forth herein; and
  - Is accurate and complete.

Requests for restriction do not have to be granted; however, if the University agrees to a restriction, it may not use or disclose the protected health information in violation of the restriction, except in emergency situations. Further, any agreed-to restriction will not be effective to prevent uses and disclosures to the individual or as required by law.

2. Procedure
Request to Restrict Use or Disclosure of Protected Health Information
- An individual may request a restriction on the use and disclosure of his or her protected health information.
- A covered component does not have to agree to requests for restrictions; however, if it does agree, the covered component may not use or disclose the protected health information in violation of such restriction, except in emergency situations.
- The covered component should discuss with the individual whether the restriction should be communicated to others (i.e., other covered components of the University or business associates who may be sending the individual communications on behalf of the University).

Terminating a Restriction
- A restriction can be terminated if:
  - The individual requests the restriction in writing or orally (if the termination is requested orally, it should be documented; or
