Mingjie (Mindy) Gao

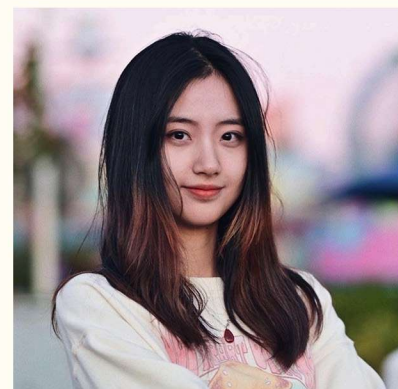

GSEP

Department: Student Activities

Job Title: Student Programming Graduate Assistant

Major: Psychology

Career Choice: Psychology Researcher

“I like the relationships/vibes on the Board. Everyone is being so lovely and so supportive, which was really helpful when I had just started this job...The way how they are dedicated to this work, how organized they are, and how they stick to their missions of supporting and helping Seaver students to have a warm and welcoming community inspired me. Mainly, I want to shout out to Lou, a wonderful supervisor in the world! She has so many traits that I learned from...All of her care and support are the foundations of my love for this position.” -Mindy

“Mindy is always prepared for every meeting, and puts a lot of effort into getting to know the roles of not just the Student Programming Board, but also the other staff members and areas of our Student Activities office. She is extremely tech-savvy and has taken on the role of knowing the ins and outs of Peppervine and CampusGroups platform, which has helped support the other areas of the department when it comes to overlapping programs and collaborations.”

Jacob Jones

Seaver College

Department: Boys & Girls Club of Malibu Wellness Center

Job Title: Community Affairs and Outreach Specialist

Major: Business Administration

Career Choice: Finance, Commercial Real-Estate

“Everyone at the Boys and Girls club is welcoming and are great examples to the kids and students at the schools around Malibu and LA. Siugen leads by example and has played an important role for the improvement of the community of Malibu.” -Jacob

“Jake has support the Wellness Center by sending communication in Spanish and English to our parents for parents workshops, visit Malibu Labor Exchange to support with our efforts to outreach these labor workers... Jake professionalism with parents, students, staff and clients at the Wellness Center is remarkable special with our minorities population. Make them feel safe and welcome to come and ask for social services and mental health.

Collaboration is always there for Jake as a non-profit a lot of our events are fundraiser events and Jake is always available to be there supporting directly or indirectly, this year he ran the Malibu Half Marathon we were one of the beneficiaries, he represented Boys & Girls Club team on the run and he worked the next day on the event.

Jakob Stokes

Caruso School of Law

Department: School of Law

Job Title: Research Assistant

Major: Law

Career Choice: Law or Law-Adjacent

“My research focused on women's rights in inheritance by comparing probate records in 1870s St. Louis with modern California records to identify trends. I owe a debt of understanding to my supervising professor, Kristine Knaplund, whose expertise in the field has been invaluable to my education. This work in particular afforded me a great deal of perspective as to the evolution of female property ownership and marital rights, and was conducted through a collection of stories told via probate records of the lives of entertaining and long-forgotten people, regular and extraordinary.” -Jakob

“Jake went above and beyond by organizing and summarizing the data and the results in tables and charts, and suggesting further studies he could perform. He went through another author's study to compare our results to that study.” -School of Law

Matteson Landau

Caruso School of Law

Department: School of Law

Job Title: Research Assistant

Major: Law

Career Choice: Sports Law Attorney

“I love getting to explore and do research in the specific area of the law where I am passionate, and I am incredibly lucky to get to learn from and work with Professor Weston who has so much knowledge and expertise in the industry.” -Matteson

“Matteson is an outstanding research assistant. She is extremely thorough, brilliant in her research, analysis, and providing written summaries of various topics, as well as preparing slide presentations. Truly one of the best RAs I've had in many years. She's responsive, adapts well to topic changes, and provides true value. A pleasure to work with. A gem for Pepperdine. ” -School of Law

Isaiah Chung

Seaver College

Department: Student Success Center

Job Title: General Chemistry Tutor

Major: Biology Major, Chemistry Minor

Career Choice: Doctor of Medicine

“The "Aha" moment - when a student finally gets a concept that has eluded them for some time, and they're finally able to view their issues as simple, but are able to connect the dots to other concepts as well. That feeling of being able to teach something so that another person can see the problem from your eyes is possibly the most rewarding and greatest feeling a tutor can have.” -Isaiah

“Isaiah Chung constantly and consistently goes above and beyond his responsibilities as a tutor. Several times throughout the fall semester, Isaiah created tailored practice quiz/test questions and tutoring lessons based on what students wanted to prepare for and review. Many times I have heard students ask for Isaiah's schedule so that they can attend every tutoring session. Additionally, several students have approached me and commented on how a great tutor Isaiah is. ” -Student Success Center

Maria Grace Perez

Seaver College

Department: Special Programs Office

Job Title: Office Assistant

Major: Business Administration

Career Choice: Human Resources

“Working at the Special Programs Office has been an extremely valuable opportunity to help manage student employees and learn about event planning. I am incredibly thankful to my supervisor, Emily, for modeling a healthy work environment and treating everyone with kindness and respect.” -Grace

“Grace visibly demonstrated growth in both leadership and teamwork in her two years with Special Programs. Typically a shy person, Grace grew to become a much more assertive person, though by no means less kind and professional in her demeanor. Consistently, Grace started checking in with student workers in the field to ensure they were communicating back to us when projects were complete. She earned the respect of her peers through her competency and positive demeanor, and she she set the example in being an ambassador for Special Programs and Pepperdine.” -Special Programs Office

Lea Martinson

Seaver College

Department: Seaver Dean's Office

Job Title: Front Desk Receptionist

Major: International Studies

Career Choice: Mediator/Something in Dispute Resolution

“My favorite part about my job is getting to interact with all of the wonderful people who work in the Seaver Dean's Office! They are all so kind, encouraging, supportive, and have really invested in getting to know me over the last two years. It has been such a wonderful experience working for them, special shout-out to Lexi, KC, Liz, and Jack!!!” -Lea

“Lea has worked in our office since the Fall 2021 semester, and has been a huge asset to our team. In this academic year especially, she has been a huge help in not only assisting us with office work, but helping train new student employees in our office. She is always reliable, and a pleasure to work with.”

-Seaver Dean's Office

Ethan Barragán

Seaver College

Department: RISE

Job Title: Rise Student Lead

Major: Political Science, Minor in Rhetoric and Leadership

Career Choice: Higher Education Staff

“While working at RISE, I have come to enjoy and greatly appreciate the growth opportunities in my role. I'm grateful for having the confidence and support of my supervisors to host various events in line with RISE's six dimensions of resilience. Working with Jackie has been a blessing, and her leadership has allowed me to grow both professionally and personally.... I've had the privilege of working alongside Jackie for about two years at RISE, and we have accomplished many great things together. Thank you for always being in my corner Jackie!” -Ethan

“When Ethan wants to learn something new or feels that he has an area of growth to build upon, he immediately takes initiative and asks professional staff for opportunities to learn...Ethan did an absolutely fantastic job leading RISE & Thrive. He even had students approaching him after - once again, fostering that community. ” -RISE

Sophia Palumbo

Seaver College

Department: Student Health Center

Job Title: Student Worker

Major: Biology

Career Choice: Medical Doctor

“I love my co-workers and how they promote a positive work environment. They are so optimistic and inspiring, and always come to work with a smile on their face. Andrea is a great leader, and is constantly motivating me to develop my skills in the workplace. I am grateful for her kindness and willingness to work with me!” -Sophia

“The best example of Sophia’s initiative to acquire and apply new skills while learning and contributing to the Student Health Center is the active interaction she has with each member of the administrative and medical staff. She is quick to seek input and perspective from her colleagues and ready to offer her uniquely student perspective as well. She keeps track of the projects both in process and in cue waiting to be addressed. She does not wait for others to approach her with needs but is quick to address and prioritize them when they do. Because of what she has learned in our clinic and because she brings herself fully to the job, we have made a more meaningful impact on our student population.” -Student Health Center

Tepkanya (Merica) Sin

Seaver College

Department: International Student Services (OISS)

Job Title: Frontline/Immigration Student Assistant

Major: Psychology

Career Choice: Human Resources

“I love engaging with international students from all five schools. I also love working with the advisors at the office.” -Merica

“Merica is exceptionally professional in both her written and oral communication, carefully wording emails without being too wordy and patient in her verbal communication without being confusing...As an international student from Cambodia, she is very sensitive to the challenge students face when they are studying here from around the world. She is always available to support students. She is a phenomenal team member, taking her work seriously but blessing us with her sense of humor to keep our work in perspective. I could speak on every area (Merica truly excels in them all) but will end with Career Management...she is graduating in April and began thoughtfully taking career steps toward the field of Human Resources in her second year. She began in January planning for her graduation and OPT, well ahead of most international students.” -OISS

Jingting (Tina) Guo

Department: GSEP Financial Aid Office

Job Title: Financial Aid Graduate Assistant

Major: Clinical Psychology with Emphasis on Marriage & Family Therapy

Career Choice: MFT Therapist

“I enjoyed working in a team environment and learned a lot by collaborating with other members. Shout out to Naomi! You are so caring, understanding and supportive!” -Tina

“Tina produces her work in a timely and professional manner with attention to detail. She has significantly contributed to reviewing our GSEP Financial Aid website, Wavenet pdf guides and video guides, pulling reports for data extension and mass email sends, and has greatly assisted in handling phone and email inquiries. She continues to assist in daily tasks, including communication draft review and creating handouts as needed.”
-GSEP Financial Aid Office

Faustina Ryu

Seaver College

Department: Seaver College Career Center

Job Title: Student Specialist & Events Assistant

Major: Music - Applied Vocal Performance

Career Choice: Singer

“Maile is my biggest role model. Her dedication and creativity inspires me to challenge myself both as a student and in the office. I couldn't have been blessed with a better supervisor who encourages me to grow. With Maile's mentorship and support, this past year I mastered several new platforms, seized professional opportunities, and gained irreplaceable experience. Talking with Maile in the office and diving with her into planning each event is my favorite part of my job!” -Faustina

“As a first-year student, I am consistently impressed with the ways that Faustina exhibits strengths in all the core competencies. Faustina demonstrates a level of emotional maturity and intelligence that is impressive for her age and I have witnessed her confidence grow over the last 7 months on our team. She is professional and responsive in both her oral and written communication and I have seen her build relationships with her coworkers seamlessly throughout her time in the Career Center. Our department has full trust in her to represent us because she operates with the highest level of integrity and cares for others.” -Seaver College Career Center

Sierra Moses

Seaver College

Department: Health & Wellness (SWAB)

Job Title: Co-President of SWAB's Healthy Minds Branch

Major: English Writing & Rhetoric

Career Choice: Medical Professional/Doctor

“I love that my job focuses on the wellbeing of Pepperdine's students. I love interacting with my peers at tabling events and having the opportunity to create fun, interactive ways to get students thinking about their overall health and mental wellbeing!” -Sierra

“Sierra has been a great asset to the SWAB team. She has always shown great leadership skills and a due diligence to represent health and wellness in the best way possible. During her time as Co-President, she has accomplished running so many meetings and events that produced great success. ” -SWAB

Olivia Eilers

Seaver College

Department: Office of Student Accessibility

Job Title: Exam Proctor

Major: Psychology, Sociology & Social Work Minor

Career Choice: Clinical Social Worker

“I love working with all the staff at the OSA office, and being employed there has strengthened my commitment to ensuring accessibility at Pepperdine!” -Olivia

“Olivia demonstrates several competencies beyond her years...Her critical thinking has been excellent when she has had to make decisions for a student's exam without the ability to confirm with a full-time staff member, and then communicate this decision for me to follow up on with the student and sometimes the professor... Another facet that has impressed me about Olivia is not one that many employers might admire initially, but is one I think proves Olivia's maturity... Olivia knows her schedule and knows what she needs to be successful at her various obligations, and this has led to her declining opportunities with our office when it will cause an imbalance in her workload. In my years supervising student employees, I am impressed with Olivia's self-knowledge of her capacity and grateful because it means when Olivia is available, she is fully present and consistent.”

-Office of Student Accessibility

Camilla Kiessel

Seaver College

Department: Counseling Center

Job Title: Counseling Center Student Assistant

Major: Psychology

Career Choice: Child Clinical Psychologist

“I love that I have the opportunity to work in a field I am interested in pursuing a career in and that I get to work with such a supportive and understanding team. ” -Camilla

“Camilla started working with the Counseling Center during the Fall 2022 semester. Since that time, she has overhauled our Instagram page, updating its look and giving it a much more inviting appearance. Our social media page is integral to our outreach efforts to the Pepperdine community as it helps us to communicate relevant information and advertise events more broadly. As a result of her efforts, we have experienced an increase in followers and engagement in our online platform as well as an increase in participation at our in-person outreach events. ” -Counseling Center

Isabella Camarena

Seaver College

Department: Elementary Programs

Job Title: Youth Development Professional

Major: Theatre Arts with an Emphasis in Acting

Career Choice: Actor

“I really love the relationships I have built with the staff and students. Going to work is always a highlight of my day because I get to work with such great people who are always willing to help me grow. The staff and students have taught me patience, leadership, and initiative. Sebastian has always been super kind, and I appreciate getting to work with him as my supervisor. He has always been very understanding and helpful in anything we need at the sites!” -Isabella

“Isabella is a long time member of the team having worked with us for two years. She has forged positive and familiar relationships with the children and she continuously shows her passion for working with youth. She is a great support to our lead staff and extremely polite, pleasant and professional at all times.”

-Elementary Programs

Skylar Allen

Seaver College

Department: Pepperdine Fund

Job Title: Lead Student Supervisor

Major: Psychology

Career Choice: Criminal Psychologist

“I absolutely love the opportunity to talk to so many different Pepperdine alumni, especially those who have pursued careers they never expected to. Everyone has such a unique life story, and it’s such a privilege to call this my job. Plus, my supervisor, Ryan Montague, is an integral part of what makes the Engagement Center so exciting. He’s understanding, makes sure to really know each employee, and has a contagious enthusiasm for what we do every single day.” -Skylar

“Skylar is always willing to help out students who have to cancel their shifts at the last minute. She also goes above and beyond with helping out new students as well as her conversations on the phone. She is patient and is such a great representation of this university to our alumni base. Finally, she spends some time outside her hours responding to emails and messages that I may have missed during the day, making sure the touch points are extremely high. ” -Pepperdine Fund

Natalie Alderton

Seaver College

Department: Campus Recreation

Job Title: Council Member

Major: English

Career Choice: Writing/Sustainability

“I love that I have the opportunity to work with amazing people, like my supervisor Kiana, who share my passion for the outdoors. We get to bring this joy to Pepperdine students and help grow our community, and I am very grateful for the chance to do so.” -Natalie

“From the first day of getting to know Natalie at our annual staff retreat, she immediately stood out as highly energetic, positive, and enthusiastic, with a strong desire to continuously learn and help in any way she can. Natalie is always quick to help where she is needed and has consistently demonstrated leadership among her team as well by usually being the first to volunteer to help lead a project or task that needs to be done. She is a thorough and clear communicator and follows up on projects or tasks she is assigned. Additionally, through her strengths as a writer and creative, Natalie has significantly boosted our marketing strategies and scope of reach through writing and collaborating on the department’s regular newsletters and social media posts.”

-Campus Recreation

Ryan Brinkman

Seaver College

Department: Student Activities

Job Title: Student Activities Intern

Major: Political Science

Career Choice: Attorney & Educator

“I love the variety of work that I am entrusted to complete due to the nature of the Student Activities office, my wonderful and accommodating supervisor, and the wide diversity of interests and hobbies represented in Pepperdine's 100+ clubs and student organizations. Additionally, I have a multitude of opportunities for professional development in my position that I am extremely appreciative of!” -Ryan

“Ryan is a team player and always willing to complete any task. He is efficient with his time, allowing tasks to be completed in a timely fashion. He always says yes to whatever is thrown at him and always asks for clarification when needed. ” -Student Activities

Katie Price

Seaver College

Department: Student Activities

Job Title: Student Activities Intern

Major: Sports Medicine

Career Choice: TBD

“How loving and supportive my supervisors, Danielle and Lanie, are. They are both my best friends and role models. They support me in more ways than I could describe but also push me to be better in every way. ” -Katie

“Katie lives and breathes Student Activities. She loves to support events and will help any of the staff with their projects. During Waves Weekend, she coordinated the student performers at the Family Picnic, however due to rain she had to contact the performers to let them know they could no longer perform. Her can do spirit is contagious and she is a joy to work with. ” -Student Activities

Sebastian LoGiudice

Seaver College

Department: OneStop

Job Title: OneStop Student Assistant

Major: Business Administration

Career Choice: Business Owner

“Working directly with students and parents in a professional environment has taught me many critical skills for my future career. I also work with some of the best people in the world and am super thankful to be part of such a loving and supportive team. Overall I’ve learned that teamwork is the most important tool for happiness and productivity.” -Sebastian

“Sebastian is loyal, kind, dedicated, and has a heart for serving others. He is enthusiastic and full of energy. I admire that he is able to have amazing balance with work, school and personal life. He is not afraid of hard work. He is always up for any challenge and welcomes it by asking for more. He has a big personality; he brightens the mood from the minute he walks into the room. He is instantly liked by all.” -OneStop

Emily Gerst

Caruso School of Law

Department: Student Activities

Job Title: Fraternity & Sorority Life Graduate Assistant

Major: Dispute Resolution

Career Choice: University Ombudsperson

“I love working as a part of the Student Activities team! My supervisor, Molleigh, is incredibly supportive, she consistently gives me opportunities to use my strengths, pursue my interests, and gain new skills. I enjoy being in a role where I get to work with an amazing team and serve students in tangible ways. My experience in FSL and Student Activities has given me great insight into the world of higher education and helped me develop my post-grad plans.” -Emily

“Emily is extremely dedicated to her professional development through this role. She is in constant communication with our students in a professional manner, she is timely in her approaches to working with students and staff, and constantly strives to improve the fraternity/sorority experience. Emily is also a great asset to other members of Student Activities and Student Affairs and constantly volunteers to assist outside of just the fraternity/sorority space as well. ” -Student Activities

Hannah Casey

Caruso School of Law

Department: Harnish Law Library

Job Title: School of Law Student Library Assistant

Career Choice: Entertainment Attorney

“I really appreciate being able to come into work everyday knowing I will share a smile and a conversation with all of my coworkers, and the students that come into the law library to study. I love the comfortable and safe environment the law library offers, and I especially love having supervisors as accommodating and kind as Vania. Vania is very understanding of the occasional schedule changes that come with being a law student, and she never fails to show that being a student comes first while being a student worker. ” -Hannah

“Hannah has gone above and beyond when it comes to promoting the law library's services. Whenever she interacts with a student who seems to be a little lost about the law library's policies, our book scanner, printing services, databases, etc., she explains how they can use our services with an outgoing and friendly attitude that immediately puts students at ease and allows them to feel more comfortable in using the library's services and resources for their studies. ” -Harnish Law Library

Hayden Araza

Seaver College

Department: Fine Arts Division

Job Title: Lead Manager of Pepperdine Studio Arts Social Media, Fine Arts Student Mentee (Faculty mentorship program), Student Library Associate

Major: International Business, Art Minor

Career Choice: Global Creative Marketer

“I love the creative freedom in building the Pepperdine Studio Arts Social Media brand and representing the Fine Arts Division at Pepperdine. I love the leadership opportunities and being able to grow in the art industry. For working in Payson Library, I love helping and problem solving for each patron that needs help at the front desk.” -Hayden

“Our social media platform has never been more of a positive and informative presence within our community. Our artists are highlighted for their outstanding work. This has encouraged so many artists in our program to pursue greater standards and excellence all around the studio arts community. As my mentee, I feel like I have an angel watching over my classes and her hard labor in my studio has been more impressive than any other mentees or assistants I've had in the past.” -Fine Arts Division

Joshua Bravo

Seaver College

Department: Student Accounts

Job Title: Student Accounts Student Worker

Major: Accounting

Career Choice: Accountant

“Loving and caring environment that my supervisor and other staff help to create. ” -Joshua

“Josh has grown professionally and has great problem solving skills. He is solution-minded and has strong critical thinking abilities, being logical in his dealings with everyone. He has an impressive work ethic, is detailed, and his willingness to help the team is very appreciated. ” -Student Accounts

Emily Shaw

Job Title: RISE Marketing Student Employee,
Pepperdine Mobility Driver

Major: Psychology

Career Choice: Clinical Psychologist

“I love my supervisors, Stacey Lee and Debra Cowart, and I am so grateful for their mentorship. I also love being able to serve the Pepperdine community through my roles.” -Emily

“I see Emily striving to live out the growth mindset in all she does, not just in her work, but also in her friendships, her relationships, her academics, and her faith - in every area of her life. I hope that I have shared many examples above of the ways she consistently strives to innovate, change, and improve to better serve others, whether that is learning and suggesting a new technology, hosting a never-before-done video series on Instagram, or even volunteering to be one of two student co-hosts for the RISE Summit itself!” -RISE

Charlie Markham

Seaver College

Department: Community Engagement & Service
in the Hub for Spiritual Life

Job Title: Intern/Student Staff

Major: Communication Studies

Career Choice: Non-profit Community Outreach

“I love the environment that Christian and all the student staff have crafted. It has been a wonderful place to be a part of, as we are always encouraging each other to grow, and the skills that I have learned in this job will be indispensable for years to come. I truly have changed into a more confident and competent person because of my work in Community Engagement and Service, and that is all thanks to the amazing people I have interacted with while working there, especially Christin Shatzer Román, Olivia Robinson, Diamond Longs, and Jaimie Park.”

-Charlie

“Charlie always demonstrates an attitude of curiosity and positivity when taking on new tasks or learning new skills. In his work to maintain and update our webpage for Community Engagement and Service, Charlie takes care and pays close attention to detail in this professional and public-facing document. Even though the work to keep our webpage updated can be tedious and may go unnoticed to some, Charlie is open to learning the process and is excited to learn new skills associated with this task.” -Community Engagement & Service

Stephanie Abad

Seaver College

Department: Jumpstart

Job Title: Jumpstart Intern

Major: Psychology

“I love seeing the impact that our program has on not only the communities we serve but also the student employees too. Knowing that we are making a difference for kids like I once was is my favorite part of the job!”

-Stephanie

“Stephanie has managed to make herself an invaluable member of the Jumpstart team. She has distinguished herself as a leader amongst the other students and student leaders that are a part of Jumpstart. This year Stephanie has managed to create training curriculum for Jumpstart's all day trainings and led a group of 75+ corps members through the content single-handedly. Stephanie supports a multitude of programmatic efforts. Stephanie consistently supports other leaders who work in the office with their projects like Jumpstart materials, data entry for compliance efforts, corps culture building, and more. ” -Jumpstart

MaFe Saito

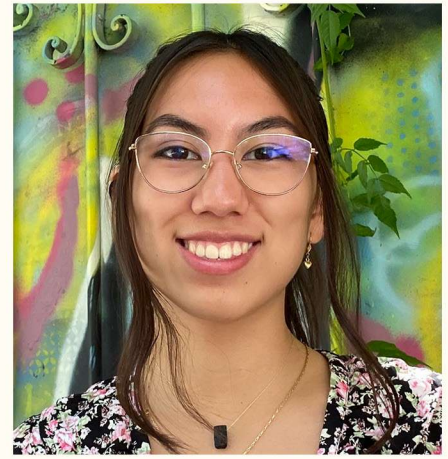

Seaver College

Department: Community Engagement & Service
in the Hub for Spiritual Life

Job Title: Student Assistant

Major: Business Administration

Career Choice: Management

“I like having the opportunity to network with partners within and outside from Pepperdine and be able to have an impact through this network” -MaFe

“MaFe is a self-starter who sees opportunities to improve or expand her work and takes initiative to follow through. Beyond being an effective self-directed student staff member, MaFe brings enthusiasm and a long-term view of how her efforts can have an impact on the university and our community partner in the Labor Exchange. MaFe is one of the main reasons why Pepperdine has been able to return to pre-pandemic levels of engagement and participation with the Labor Exchange—her efforts ensure that regular volunteers serve this community partner.” -Community Engagement & Service

Caroline Sun

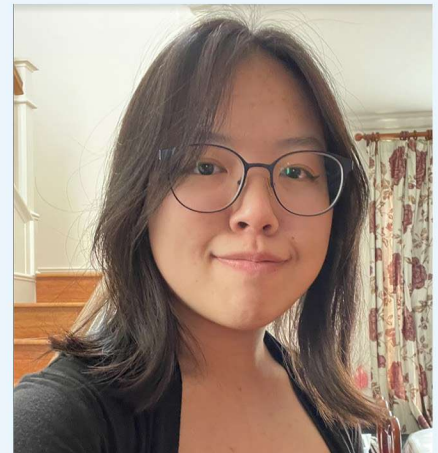

Seaver College

Department: Genesis Lab (Pepperdine Library)

Job Title: Genesis Lab Student Assistant

Major: Computer Science

Career Choice: Software Engineer

“What I like most about my job is being able to help students and faculty print the most creative and fun models that could also be useful in their day to day lives.” -Caroline

“Caroline is an incredibly hardworking student and integral to the success of the Genesis Lab. She is receptive to instruction, training, and advice and quickly implements and pivots based on the feedback she receives. She ensures that the 3D print requests that the Genesis Lab receives are organized and completed efficiently and has become the resident expert on the Cricut Maker machine, designing her own stickers and guiding other students through their own projects. One of the most fun projects we’ve worked on together was the building of a hologram projector which currently lives in the Genesis Lab and frequently elicits “that’s so cool!” comments from our visitors.” -Genesis Lab (Pepperdine Library)

Jada Jensen

Seaver College

Department: Student Activities

Job Title: Student Activities Intern

“Jada has been dedicated to Student Activities for the past three years. Her passion for Student Activities is evident in her consistency and thoroughness. With her help, the Student Activities has been able to maintain a social media presence that we did not have pre-COVID.” -Student Activities

Ashlee Quick

Seaver College

Department: Advancement

Job Title: Development Student Assistance

“Ashlee is incredibly capable and bright. She barely needs instruction on tasks since she has been with our department for so long. The team treats her like a full time employee, who receives equal assignments and roles in projects. She has shown incredible leadership during the transitional time of the previous team leaving and the new team arriving. She is a team player, who works exceptionally hard to make sure tasks are completed on time and with great quality.” -Advancement

Jake Moonen

Seaver College

Department: University Church

Job Title: The Table Manager

“As The Table Manager, Jake leads his peers professionally and pastorally. Every week at The Table, I can trust him to set up the space thoroughly, without missing any details, and he is so responsive to feedback from me and from the students he manages. I am able to take care of other things because I trust Jake so much, which is a huge benefit to me and the ministry of The Table. This is an especially challenging job because it is at the president's house, and many higher-level administrators are present. That would be intimidating to many students, but Jake navigates it peacefully and with a lot of excitement and joy. During the week, leading up to each week's Table, he is communicative and takes initiative with all of the tasks that need to get done to make sure The Table runs smoothly.” -University Church

Congratulations!
