SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY PRESENTS "FRIENDSHIP, FAITH, AND WAR" WITH DR. JOSEPH LOCONTE

At the intersection of art, faith, and bloody conflict stand two men – two friends: C. S. Lewis and J. R. R. Tolkien. Drawing on his new book, A Hobbit, a Wardrobe, and a Great War, historian Dr. Joseph Loconte will tell the incredible, true story of two artists, whose works were shaped by war, faith, and friendship. It is difficult to think of two Christian artists, who have had a greater impact on our culture than Lewis and Tolkien, and in this year's Licata Lecture, Loconte will delve into the roles their faith and the experience in war played in creation of their literature.

The event is free and it will be held at 6 PM at the Drescher Graduate Campus in the James Wilburn Auditorium. Reception to follow. For more information, please contact Maurice Derrico at 310.506.7490.

Integrity is doing the right thing, even when no one is watching.

- C. S. Lewis
