

Student's prayer for Faculty Conference Participants
Luke Tyson, GSBM

Father God,

I ask that you would bless the faculty as they serve as beacons of light in a world that does not know you. May the individual lives of each and every person here reflect your love. Grant your servants understanding hearts that they may discern good from evil.

God, you have given a great responsibility to leaders and teachers on this earth. May the faculty here reverently offer their service to the furthering of your Kingdom. We know that the faith you have called your people to is not an arcane belief system. As the educators in this room approach the task of influencing young people, may your love and faithfulness abound in their own lives and the lives that they touch.

Lord, please ordain this weekend and soften any hard hearts that are here. Remove any bias or preconceived notions we have against the people around us as we pursue you.

As the Psalmist said:

“Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart
be acceptable in your sight,
O Lord, my rock and my redeemer.”

Lord bless this weekend and bless our wonderful faculty.

Amen.
