Spiritual Rhythms
 Scrolls for Robust Salvation

PEPPERDINE UNIVERSITY
Welcome to beautiful Malibu! This is our 74th Pepperdine Bible Lectures, and something’s different.

In the previous 73 lectures, the plenary sessions focused on one book (or one theme). But this year, we’re drawing from the wisdom of five Old Testament books—books that came to be known as the “five scrolls,” read through the rhythm of the Jewish year.

Imagine reading Song of Songs together at Passover. (Really? With grandma in the room?!) Or hearing Ruth at Pentecost when the barley harvest was celebrated. Or absorbing the pain of Lamentations at the Ninth of Av (a fast to remember the fall of Jerusalem and other Jewish calamities). Or soaking in the sometimes-somber and sometimes-joyful wisdom of Ecclesiastes at the Feast of Tabernacles. Or remembering God’s mighty deliverance at Purim through the reading of Esther.

These books probably aren’t on the “most read” books of the Bible. At times, they’ve sifted through our fingers and almost been lost.

But there is so much wisdom there! Come expecting a word from the Lord about love, about faithfulness, about grief, about love, about deliverance.

May you find refreshment, dear friends, as we encourage one another these next few days. Soak in the scriptures, the communion of fellow believers, the worship, and the beauty.
